A NOTE FROM BETH

Students are not greater than their teacher. But the student who is fully trained will become like the teacher. Luke 6:40 (New Living Translation)

*As I look at our teachers from day to day, I am excited to know who our students are becoming. God's Word teaches us that when a student is fully trained he becomes just like his teacher. When I consider what that means for the students at Crossroads I am encouraged and optimistic about their future. **Consider our fifth grade teacher, Miss Cassie Luna who is headed for the mission field of Kenya next school year, a young woman fully committed to ministry and service. She has been teaching at the highest level of academic excellence while at the same time modeling a level of devotion that has impacted students in life-changing ways. **Consider our middle school math teacher, Mr. Michael Pryor. Mr. Pryor develops our middle school worship band and vocal groups, modeling a type of leadership and servanthood that builds both character and spiritual maturity in our young people. **Consider our athletic director, Coach Comfort. Coach Comfort has developed programs for our young people where they can learn and demonstrate Christian character in an encouraging and positive environment. I could list so many teachers and mentors that are pouring into our students on a daily basis. The reality that our students will become like their teachers is an exciting proposition....a hopeful promise.*

This is what makes Crossroads Christian Schools an investment worth making. The teachers we place in front of our children on a daily basis are truly the people that our children will become. Jesus tells us so. When we look for teachers to add to our staff here at Crossroads, we are looking for teachers who reflect the mind and attitude of Christ. Ultimately, He is the teacher of us all. At Crossroads, we seek to learn from Him, to become like Him, to love like Him. Come learn with us.

Love, Beth
